Vlcek, Zerman Slated To Speak At Banquets

Two persons who have worked closely with Greek organizations for several years will speak at the annual Pan Hel and IFC Banquets, Wednesday, April 10, and Thursday, April 11.

Miss Carol Ann Vlcek, national officer of Gamma Phi Beta, and Mr. William S. Zerman, assistant dean of men at Ohio Wesleyan University, will speak to members of sororities and fraternities attending the banquet.

Miss Vlcek has been traveling secretary of Gamma Phi Beta for two years. She visits the chapters throughout the country and helps them with any problems they might be having. She was graduated from Ohio State University.

Mr. Zerman was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1949 and after a three-year tour of duty with the Army, he served as field secretary for Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. During the three years in this position, he visited the campuses of 81 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

He then became assistant dean of men at the University of Michigan. He was assigned the task of improving the fraternity system at the U of M, which involved organizing individual chapters and an Interfraternity Council. He also served as counselor to all active and alumni members of the 42 social and 27 professional fraternities during this time.

In 1955 he went to Ohio Wesleyan as assistant dean of men, and will become dean of men after the retirement of Dean J. J. Somerville in June of this year.

Mr. Zerman, a native of Toledo, is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Delta Chi, the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, and serves on the National Interfraternity Conference committee.

The Outstanding Greek Man and Woman will be presented at each banquet. Pan Hel officers and members for next year will also be installed. Awards will be presented to the senior members of Pan Hel and IFC Keys to the members of that Council.

The dinners will be held in Founders Dining Room beginning at 7:30 p.m. on the respective days.

Chairmen of the banquets are as follows: Pan Hel—Phyllis Brobst and Sharon Tamblin, and IFC—George Lynch and Bruce Brown.

Profs To Attend Confab

Dr. Grover C. Platt, chairman of the history department, will attend the Ohio Academy of History Convention in Columbus Saturday, April 13. Dr. Platt is president of the organization and will preside at the business meeting.

Dr. Robert Twyman will also attend the convention and serve on a panel discussion.

500 Hear Successful Pops Concert

By JACIE ROBSON

More than 500 persons, including faculty and students, enjoyed the relaxation of listening to the Pops Concert held in the men's gym at 8:30 p.m., April 5.

The concert, modeled after the Boston Pops performances, featured selections from "Oklahoma," "The Blue Danube Waltz," by Strauss; "La Vie Parisienne," by Offenbach; and ended the concert with "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by Sousa, which was repeated for an encore.

Warren Allen, baritone soloist, sang "Di Provenza il Mar" and "None But The Lonely Heart." There was absolute silence as he sang "Old Man River" which was his encore. The Chi Omega Quartet brightened the stage singing "Carolinas Moon," "Floatin Down To Cotton Town," and "Honey Love."

The audience was in top form when they sang "Home on the Range," "My Bonnie," "Dixie," and "Yankee Doodle" in the "community sing."

Although everyone seemed to be enjoying the concert the children expressed their enjoyment outwardly. During "The Stars and Stripes Forever" the children were

One-Act Plays To Be Presented

The University Theatre will present a bill of one-acts April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in Gate Theatre, according to Dr. Frank L. Miesle, assistant professor of speech.

"Moonshine," by Arthur Hopkins, directed by Joseph Gall, has Cynthia Dicken as technical director. This one-act is a melodrama with an unusual twist that supplies a surprise ending. There are two characters in the play: the revenue man played by George Dunster, and the moonshiner portrayed by Lewis Bove.

"The Flattering Word," by George Kelly, is directed by Phyllis O'Reilly. In the cast are Wayne Baldwin, Patricia Rodgers, Cynthia Dicken, Rusti Morris, and Garry Hershberger.

Thomas L. Edie is directing "The Devil and Daniel Webster," by Stephen Benet. The cast includes Robert Snyder, Janice Heinze, Ronald Reed, Richard Barber, Thomas Jenkins, Richard Howe, Larry Leacher, Neil Straaten, William Peinert, Charles Lutz, Ronald O'Leary, Joyce Comer, Buzz Salchow, Katherine Elliott, Jacqueline Ward, LaDelle Gerlach, and Judith Fulton.

There is no admission charge. High school students and persons from Bowling Green are invited.

History Entries Are Due Monday

The deadline for The John Schwarz Memorial Award, presented to the person writing the best paper on a historical subject, is April 15. Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary society, makes the presentation each year.

The award is in honor of Prof. John Schwarz, former chairman of the history department. The late Mr. Schwarz, in conjunction with Phi Alpha Theta, originated the award, along with a parchment certificate given to the winner.

The award is in cash and the winner will have his name inscribed on a bronze plaque hanging in the hall of the Administration Bldg.

Papers should be turned in at the main history office or to Dr. John Oglevee, assistant professor of history, who is adviser to the society.

Delta Xi Theta Receives University Approval; Seeks Seat In Pan Hel

Delta Xi Theta, local sorority, has received University recognition and is now planning to seek membership on the Panhellenic Council, according to Anne Potoky, assistant to the director of student life and services, who is serving as adviser to the group.

The sorority was organized in September, 1955, to fill a need for an organization of this type among the Negro women on the campus. The group is aimed at offering the Negro students an adequate social program, comparable to other groups.

Betty McDonald, president of Delta Xi Theta, stated that eventually the group will petition a national Negro sorority, but first would like to develop itself further.

Meetings of the group are held every Tuesday evening in peacock alley of Prout Hall. The sorority has conducted several successful social programs throughout this past year including a tea held to introduce the faculty and administration to the sorority and also to serve as a rush tea. The sorority recently pledged 19 women.

Leedy, Munsel Host Ohio Library Meet

Dr. Paul F. Leedy, University Librarian, and Miss Helen Munsel, librarian of the Bowling Green Public Library, were hosts Friday at the annual northwestern district meeting of the Ohio Library Association and the Ohio Library Trustees Association.

Approximately 250 persons attended the all-day event. They included representatives from public, university, and high school libraries.

Students Urged To Keep Bowling Green Green—Chief Rohrs

"The policy of fining students for walking on the lawns will be enforced in an attempt to 'keep Bowling Green-green,'" announced William J. Rohrs, chief of University police.

"Students are ruining the lawns of the campus in addition to tracking mud into the buildings and making extra janitorial work necessary," explained Rohrs. Students may be fined a minimum of one dollar if found guilty of walking on the lawn.

Student cooperation is necessary if grass is to grow in some areas, explained Rohrs. Areas of particular concern are found near the Administration Bldg., the Practical Arts Bldg., Alice Prout Hall, and the Library.

Smoking regulations will also be enforced. Students are allowed to smoke in the hallways of the first two floors of the Administration Bldg., and the main corridor of the men's gym, or in any place marked by "smoking permitted" signs.

The Student Court has jurisdiction in enforcing the regulations governing smoking by students, and may assess fines up to $5 for violations.

General chairman was Ed Ward; Ron Walsh and Herb Hipp were in charge of ticket sales, Jim Rodgers and Ross Cornell, decorations; Nancy Looman, refreshments; Pat Reaver, Gusna Rutledge, Wayne Crookshanks, and Dick Swinehart, publicity; and Delta Tau Delta pledge class, technical arrangements. The members of Cap and Gown ushered.

Theta Chi Captures IFC Sing Honors

Theta Chi fraternity won first place in the annual IFC Sing Sunday, April 7. This marked the sixth first place win in seven years that the representative group from Theta Chi has won.

Song leader for the winning group was James Rodgers. The group sang the Negro spiritual "Po' Ol' Lazarus" and

Wilson Receives Credit Award

Jeffrey Wilson, senior in the College of Business Administration, has been elected by a committee of the Credit Association of Northwestern Ohio to receive the Credit Management Award. This award is given annually by the association for the outstanding senior in his course work.

Wilson met the eligibility for the award by meeting grade requirements for departmental honors here, pursuing the degree of bachelor of science in business administration, possessing senior rank, majoring in fields of accounting or marketing, satisfactorily completing all available courses in credit management, and by demonstrating qualities of honesty, good character, leadership, initiative, personality, and high morals.

Wilson is 24 years old, married, and has two children. Formerly from Rochester, N.Y., he now lives at 646 Wallace Ave. Wilson has a cumulative point average of 3.6 and is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Book and Motor, Society for the Advancement of Management, the Bowling Green Marketing Association, and the University Veterans Association. He will be graduated in June.

Pan-American Festival Features Plays, Exhibits

A day-long pageant in commemoration of Pan-American Day is being held today by the department of foreign languages and El Circulo Hispanico.

University observance of Pan-American Day started last night with a 15 minute program on WBBG, presented by Dr. Robert Twyman of the history department. Dr. Twyman interviewed a Spanish-American man, Roberto Gutierrez. Robert Smith presented a half-hour program of Spanish-American music over WBBG the same evening.

About 300 high school students of Spanish have been invited to attend today's pageant. All students of Spanish at the University are connected with the program, either directly or indirectly, Dr. John V. Falconieri, assistant professor of foreign languages, stated.

In the afternoon, exhibits will be on display for the visitors. Spanish arts and crafts will be displayed in 103 Administration Bldg. and a Pan-American display will be featured in 105 Administration Bldg. An exhibit of Spanish painting will be shown in the Fine Arts Bldg.

At 3:45 p.m. in the main auditorium, El Circulo Hispanico will present a one-act comedy, "La Muela del Juicio," directed by Dr. Falconieri. The cast includes Alberto de la Cruz, Franz Pfister, Francisco Santacana, Julia Kauffman, Raymond Mougey, Eugene Emter, and Mary Lou Culbertson.

In the evening a folk festival will be presented in the main auditorium. Featured in the program will be Prof. Warren Allen, Patricia Rodgers, and Dale Swan, vocalists; Seymour L. Benstock, director of the University Symphony Orchestra, cello solo; James Jeffries, piano solo; and Frank Da Polito, guitar.

Charles Matthews and Robert Haskins will perform on the bongo drums, and Juanita Bailey will dance the mambo and the cha cha cha. A recital of Afro-Cuban poetry is also planned for the evening entertainment.

Tryouts for the next series of one-act plays will be held today from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m. in 7, 9, and 11 Gate Theatre.

Plays to be produced include "The Rope," written by Eugene O'Neill, and to be directed by Sandra Clark; "Where the Cross Is Made," by O'Neill, directed by Jerry Bannings; and "Five in Judgement" by Thornton, directed by Ralph Starling.

"The Dream Girl of Theta Chi." Theta Chi was presented with a large rotating trophy along with a smaller plaque which will remain in permanent possession. The director of the group was also given an individual trophy.

The second place plaque went to Sigma Chi. Dennis Baum directed the group in singing "Rollin' Down to Jordan" and "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

Delta Epsilon captured third place in singing "Winter Song" and "The TKE Sweetheart Song." Bill Park directed the chorus.

Entertainment while the judges made the decision was provided by the Alpha Tau Omega Barbershop Quartet and the Pitch Pikes.

Master of ceremonies was Charles Richey. Judges for the contest included Frank Menichetti, Perrysburg; James Middleton, Fostoria; and Oscar Clymer, Maumee.

Chairmen of the annual Sing were Larry Morrison and Richey.

Other fraternities participating in the Sing included: Alpha Tau Omega, singing "Brothers, Sing On!" and "The Halls of Ivy." Elden Ehrman was director.

Delta Tau Delta, directed by Tom Carlyon, sang "Goober Peas" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Kappa Sigma's song leader was Robert Sebo, directing the chorus in "I Believe" and "How High the Moon."

Phi Delta Theta sang "Eternal Praise" and "Always," directed by Kurt Kuenzle.

Phi Kappa Psi, led by Larry Brower, sang the theme from the movie, "The Proud One" and "Steal Away." Phi Kappa Tau sang "Desert Song" and "My Phi Tau Pin." Keith Pitney directed.

Pi Kappa Alpha closed the program with "Whiffenpoof Song" and "Cruisin' In My Model T." They were led by Richard Seibert.

Students Win Awards In Bank Art Exhibit

Three University art majors won prizes for art work in a recent art exhibit at the Bowling Green Banking Co.

Barbara Montgomery won first prize of $10 with "Black Alley," an oil painting of the alley between the Milliken Hotel and Bigelow's Music Shoppe on East Wooster St. looking north.

Marjorie King's water color "Impression," a scene of some homes on E. Wooster St. across from the university golf course, won $5 for second place.

Third place of $3 went to Merlin Souz for his water color "Coastal Sunset."

Ford Math Man To Give Lecture

"The Role of a Mathematician in Automobile Research" will be the subject of a talk by James S. Seward, supervisor of the mathematical analysis unit of the scientific laboratory of the Ford Motor Co., at a meeting of Kappa Mu Epsilon, mathematics honorary, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, in 140 Overman Hall.

In addition Seward will discuss his work with electronic computers, and aspects of the problems handled by a mathematician in automotive research.

Seward received his masters degree in mathematics from the University of Michigan and has done graduate work at the University of Maryland and George Washington University. He was employed for seven years at the United States Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D.C.

He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Beta Kappa, Association of Computing Machinery, Industrial Mathematics Society, and the Detroit Electronics Round Table.

The public is invited to attend this lecture.

Editorially Speaking

(The following editorial was written by a candidate for the 1957-58 editorship of the B-G News and does not necessarily reflect the feelings of this year's editor or staff.)

Don't 'Let George Do It' . . .

This is Greek Week. For most fraternity and sorority members it means dressing up for exchange dinners, attending Sings and banquets, and dancing to the music of a big name band.

If this is all Greek Week means to us, we are missing the point. What may seem to be a time for celebration actually should be a time for re-examination both of our fraternity's ideals and of our own.

What is the purpose of the fraternity system at Bowling Green? In a University where almost half the student body is affiliated with Greek letter organizations, this question has vital meaning not only for Greeks but for independents, faculty members, everyone connected with the school. Fraternities and sororities consistently provide the campus with leaders in every field. The training and guidance these leaders have received from the fraternities may make the difference between good and bad leadership, between the success and failure of their organizations.

Since this function is probably the most important contribution of the Greek system to the campus, the validity of our continued existence depends upon how well we perform it. At the dinner-discussion periods held at the houses last night, some of the groups tried to analyze in what respects the system was failing to train leaders effectively and how the function could be improved.

Before a group can train a leader, it must have strength, unity, and good leadership within its own ranks. A sorority or fraternity is only the sum total of what each member gives of himself; Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils can be no stronger than their weakest members. For the whole Greek system to function successfully, each member of each individual group MUST contribute.

In this lies the key to a successful and valuable fraternity system. Cooperation of each fraternity man and sorority woman is a necessity. To improve our Greek system as a whole, each member must examine his own contributions and standards. If we all "let George do it," there soon would be no fraternity system at Bowling Green.

American Teachers Analyzed; German Landlord Gets Even

By JEFF OSOFF

Beginning on the serious side this week we find that the National Education Association has recently made public the first comprehensive survey ever conducted on the professional, economic and social life of the American teacher. The following sketches of the average male and female teacher in the public schools today emerge from information revealed in the survey.

The typical man teacher is 35.4 years old, married, and has either one or two children. He holds a bachelor's degree. A master's or higher degree is held by 42.0 per cent of the male teachers. His total teaching experience is 8.0 years; this includes 4.8 years in the school system in which he is now employed.

His annual salary is $4,374 represents 86.0 per cent of his total income. He teaches in high school or junior high and has 129.1 pupils in his classes. However, 31.2 per cent of the men teach in elementary schools, with median classes of 31.8 pupils. The typical male teacher devotes 11.3 hours a week to school duties in addition to the regular school day.

If he could go back to his college days and start over again, it's a toss-up as to whether he would again become a teacher. Of all men teachers, 53.9 per cent say that they would teach again. However, 16.6 per cent are not sure what their choice would be, and 29.5 per cent think they would do something else.

The typical woman teacher is 45.5 years of age, married, and has one child. She holds a bachelor's degree. A master's or higher degree is held by 18.1 per cent. Her total teaching experience is 15.4 years; this includes 7.6 years in the system where she is employed.

Her annual salary is $3,392 that represents 95.3 per cent of her total income. She teaches in an elementary grade; 30.8 pupils are enrolled in her class. However, 26.7 per cent of the women teach in secondary grades, with a median of 129.5 pupils in their classes. The typical woman teacher devotes 9.7 hours a week to school duties in addition to the regular school day.

If she could go back to her college days and start over, she would again become a teacher. Of all female teachers, 80.7 per cent reported that they would again teach.

And now on the lighter side we find that although Hoengen, Germany police eventually interfered, an angry landlord felt that he had come out on top in his quarrel with a tenant. He sawed off the staircase between the first and second floor, stranding the tenant on the upper story.

New Officers Of Women Students Installed During Fete At Founders

Installation of newly elected officers of the Association of Women Students was held Wednesday evening, April 3, in the west lounge of Founders Quadrangle.

Newly elected officers who were installed by the retiring officers are June Fritsch, president; Janet Dick, first vice-president; Linda Gee, second vice-president; Sue Rautine, recording secretary; Carol McEwen, corresponding secretary; Mary Jo Aufderheide, junior representative; Christine Skodlar, senior representative; and Ann Browder, sophomore representative.

Mrs. Jesse J. Currier, dean of women and AWS adviser, spoke before the installation ceremony on the increased responsibilities of women's student government on a growing campus.

Mrs. Mary Lou Young, interior decorator from Defiance and an alumna of Bowling Green, spoke after the installation on interior decoration. Mrs. Young, who is a Chicago art school graduate, supplied many suggestions for home decoration.

"Your house should look like you, should be comfortable, and should depict the type of life that you lead," said Mrs. Young. She suggested that before buying furniture a person should decide on period and style preference. She also stated that it is acceptable to mix periods and styles in the same home.

Mrs. Young showed several color schemes for different types of homes, as well as samples of new fabrics that are now on the market.

Mrs. Young also gave various suggestions concerning color, fabric, and furniture selection as well as advice on home management.

Shirley Merritt, retiring president of AWS, introduced the new officers and thanked the women of the campus for their support during the past year.

Also present was Mrs. Herbert Trumbore, assistant adviser to the group.

Seven Students Fined $48 By Court Justices

Four students appeared in Student Court April 3 for violation of University automobile regulations. Found guilty of third and fourth offenses was Dale Swan. He was fined $5 for the third and $10 for the fourth. Swan's car privileges were suspended for three weeks.

John T. Murnen was found guilty of failure to register his car and of a parking violation. He was fined $25 for non-registration and $1 for the parking offense.

Five students failed to appear in Student Court and were fined in absentia. Fined $1 for first offenses were Louise Knoll, William Park, Richard Schirripa, and Thomas Toolan. David Lowman was fined $3 for a second offense.

Letters To The Editor

Writer Notes Blind Conformity

Dear Editor:

Like others, I have followed with great interest the exchange of letters and editorials on the complacency and indifference toward important issues that are evident among today's young people. Now, as another member of the "silent generation," I feel impelled to add my views.

The writer of last Tuesday's editorial, "Raincoats for Beach Parties," seems to feel that those who express concern are alarmists, who try to foresee some impending doom for which we should prepare, as though by digging a cyclone cellar (or a bomb shelter). I don't believe this is a fair interpretation, for it tells only of the negative aspects.

The attitude has been taken that present times are good; what more can we ask? This failure either to see what is wrong with modern times or to assume responsibility for thinking about it does not foster creativity or produce social or intellectual progress. If all is well with our world—to take just one example—why are tranquilizing drugs being bought like anti-histamines were a few years ago? Are we to accept the "what is," and ignore or refuse to recognize the "what ideally might be," as the editorials seem to suggest?

Certainly we care about the future! Why else would we be here? says our editorial writer.

Why not, when college graduates can earn several times the average salary of a past generation? The recent branding of Bowling Green as anti-intellectual reflects this indifference—and even scorn—toward lasting values, which one finds on this campus and others. It may be comfortable, but it won't produce intellectual leaders.

This, I believe, is a major cause of concern of the older people toward youth. It is an absence of intellectual inquiry into what has produced our society and what will promote our future. It is a blind conformity to standards as they are found, without questioning their grounds for being, and a serene acceptance of the world as it exists now. It appears as though the picnic baskets have been left home from the beach party, as well as the raincoats. Let us consider this before we dismiss the "alarmists."

THE PULSE-POUNDING SAGA OF DE WITT CLINTON, AMERICAN

Let us today turn our eager young minds to the inspiring story of De Witt Clinton, one of the greatest figures in American history and—unaccountably—one of the most neglected.

De Witt Clinton (sometimes called Aaron Burr) first made himself known to fame in 1756 when Governor William Penn commissioned him to survey the forests of the Western Reserve. (One is inclined to wonder what in the world Governor Penn could have been thinking of, for De Witt Clinton was eighteen months old at the time.) However, the little chap did remarkably well. He surveyed as far west as Spokane, teaching phonetic English to more than twelve million Indians along the way, and then, tired but happy, he became Johnny Appleseed.

Later, he became a keelboat and sailed home to enter politics. He tried to join the Greenback Party, but his back wasn't green enough, so he joined the Whigs.

He was offered the Whig nomination for the presidency, but declined with the celebrated statement: "If nominated I will not run; if elected I will not serve."

But the Whigs only nudged each other and said, "That old fox, he's just playing hard to get." So they nominated him anyhow, and sure enough he did not run, but he was elected anyhow, and sure enough he did not serve. In fact, he was elected to a second term, which he also did not serve. However, only a few top Whigs knew there was nobody in the White House. The rest of the country thought that the President was confined to his room with a wrenched knee. For a while people sent "Get Well" cards, but soon everyone forgot and turned their attention to important matters like opening the west, inventing the buffalo, and the Black Tom Explosion.

After two terms as President, De Witt Clinton entered Yale and took up smoking. He tried several brands of cigarettes until he found the one brand that pleased him in every particular—Philip Morris, of corris!

(You knew I was going to say that, didn't you? Well, of course you did, especially if you are a Philip Morris smoker, for if you are, you know what a sweetheart of a smoke Philip Morris is—how full of rich, natural flavor, how natural and mellow, how long size and regular. And if you are not a Philip Morris smoker, you've got a treat coming. Light one soon. Light either end.)

Upon graduation from Yale, De Witt Clinton became commissioner of baseball and smoked and loved Philip Morris Cigarettes for the rest of his long and distinguished life, and when at last he was called to his reward, his friend Old Hickory (Daniel Webster) stood up in the Senate and said, "How sad that De Witt Clinton must now be forever separated from his beloved Philip Morris!"

"Nay!" cried Pitt, the Elder (Henry Clay), bounding to his feet. "We need not separate De Witt Clinton and Philip Morris. I know how to keep them together always!"

And, sure enough, if you will look at the blue federal tax stamp on your pack of Philip Morris, guess whose picture you'll see. De Witt Clinton's! That's whose!

The makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column each week, don't subscribe to Old Max's historical data, but we sure admire his taste in cigarettes. You will too. Try a new natural Philip Morris today!

Hoppel Cops Mat Titles In Post-Season Events

By PAUL LEVY

The 1956-57 record of the Bowling Green wrestling team was 6-3-1; the best in the school's history. This alone is quite an achievement, but from all indications coach Bruce Bellard has several reasons for believing that next year could be even better; not the least of which is a freshman by the name of Jim Hoppel.

Hoppel came to BG via East Liverpool High School where he lettered in both football and wrestling. While a member of the East Liverpool eleven Jim came under the tutelage of Bob Gibson; the same Gibson who is now one of Poyt Perry's assistants.

Hoppel was a member of the East Liverpool wrestling squad for four years; moving up one weight division each season. His best success was during his junior year when, at 133 pounds, he won 20 straight matches, and went on to win the Ohio State championship. During his final season, weighing 138, Jim wound up with a 19-1 slate, and a third place in the state meet.

Gibson has nothing but praise for the freshman. Said Gibson, "He is one of the hardest working and most conscientious boys I've seen. He is a fine all round boy and is sold on wrestling."

Hoppel produced a very respectable 10-2 record last season as a freshman. His two losses were at the hands of Jack Galon, who wrestled for the Toledo YMCA. Galon, during his collegiate career, wrestled for the University of Michigan, finishing second in his weight class in the 1953 Big Ten championships.

Hoppel has had nothing but success in his post-season wrestling. In the AAU championships at Columbus, Hoppel nipped five other competitors for the 160-pound title. At the end of the tourney he was chosen from all those entered to receive the Outstanding Wrestler's Award.

Jim also entered the Four State AAU Olympic Freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling championships in Detroit. In the Olympic Freestyle Hoppel walked off with first place honors and finished second, to a previous Olympic champion, in the Greco-Roman competition.

About Hoppel Coach Bellard says, "He's one of the best we've ever had."

Cooper Tabs Worsfold As MVP On 1956-57 Varsity Swimming Team

By LES WAGNER

Who was the outstanding competitor on the 1956-57 Bowling Green championship swimming team? Coach Sam Cooper was blessed with four sensational juniors. From Ralph Eakins, Bill Muir, John Thompson, and Don Worsfold the Falcon mentor nominated Worsfold as the most valuable performer on the Mid-American Conference title winning contingent.

To prove the honor is not so easily earned, all the junior freestyler from East Grand Rapids, Mich., had to do was garner BG seasonal high point honors, cop two individual MAC victories, establish varsity records in the 50 and 100-yard freestyles and a pool record in the 100.

Naturally there were a few incidental achievements. Such as his performance at Notre Dame where he shattered the pool marks in the two dashes. The sprint ace also managed to post the fastest 220-yard freestyle time of the year with a 2:17 versus North Central. But Worsfold finished second in that race for the first of his four dual meet defeats.

This year Worsfold emerged the victor in 10 of 11 50-yard freestyle races and 8 of 10 100-yard freestyle events. As a sophomore Worsfold snared 12 wins in the 13 races he competed in.

Cooper termed Worsfold, "a conscientious worker who swims for keeps." The Falcon tutor stated that Worsfold was a good team man and complimented him on his efforts as the ace sprinter was hampered by illness at strategic times during the season.

Although he has participated in two NCAA championship meets Worsfold points to a dual meet as his greatest thrill. Against Ohio U. as a sophomore he nipped defending MAC champ Tad Potter by a hand in the 100 and the two finished in a deadlock in the 50.

Potter has since graduated which left Worsfold in undisputed claim as the top sprinter in the loop. Don was pressed by Western Michigan's Roy Moyer in snaring a double-win in the 1957 dashes with times of :23.4 and :52.5. Earlier in the year Worsfold was at his best in the Miami dual meet. He posted a :23.3 in the 50-yard freestyle and a :52.0 in the 100-yard freestyle to crack Don Kepler's varsity standards.

Church Group Meet Scheduled

The third Ohio Ecumenical Student Conference will be held April 12 through 14, at Camp St. Mary's at St. Mary's, Ohio. The topic of the conference will be "Our Heritage—Key to United Christian Witness on the Campus?"

Parker Burroughs, of the American Baptist Department of University Pastor and Student Work, will serve as conference co-ordinator. He will present problems which are to be discussed during the conference and give diagnoses of progress and trends in the seminars.

Another feature of the conference will be singing led by Chuck Boddie, of the American Baptist Foreign Missions Board. Twenty-five student workers and ministers from all over Ohio will serve as resource leaders, giving their contributions of experience to their respective seminar groups.

The conference sponsored by the Ohio Ecumenical Student Council is composed of denominations of American Baptist, Congregational-Christian, Disciples of Christ, Episcopal, Evangelical United Brethren, Evangelical and Reformed, Methodist, Presbyterian, and the YWCA and YMCA.

Students who are interested may sign up at the UCF House. The cost will be $5.50.

Geology Major Wins Honorable Mention

Eugene Core, senior geology major, won an honorable mention in the National Sciences Foundation Fellowship competition. This is the fifth consecutive year the University geology department has been represented by winning a fellowship or honorable mention in this competition.

Core recently passed his civil service exam making him eligible to work for the United States Geological Survey this summer. Next year Core will be at the University of Indiana under a $1,600 assistantship in geology.

Regional Music Finals To Be Held Here

The Northwest Ohio Region-State Solo and Ensemble high school music finals will be held on this campus, Saturday, April 13, Dr. Richard Ecker, director of the event, announced.

More than 1,300 students from 22 northwestern Ohio counties are expected to participate in the contest. Students who received a rating of "I" (superior) in district music contests will be eligible to compete.

More than 600 events will be judged, Dr. Ecker said, including instrumental and vocal soloists and ensembles. The competition will be broken down according to school size into classes A, B, and C.

Other region-state finals will be held the same day at Ohio University, Ohio State University, Kent State University and Miami University. Dr. Ecker said the Bowling Green finals will probably be the largest of the five state events.

Students from the following counties will compete here: Allen, Auglaize, Crawford, Defiance, Erie, Fulton, Hancock, Hardin, Henry, Huron, Lucas, Marion, Mercer, Ottawa, Paulding, Putnam, Sandusky, Seneca, Van Wert, Wood, Wyandotte and Williams.

"What's it like to be A SYSTEMS ANALYST AT IBM?"

Two years ago, college senior Thomas Wheeler asked himself this question. Today, a Systems Analyst in IBM's Data Processing Division, Tom reviews his experience and gives some pointers that may be helpful to you in taking the first, most important step in your business career.

"What I probably like most about this job," says Tom, "is that you're never tied down to one desk and the same routine. There's always a new problem... a new approach needed... new people to meet and work with."

But first, what does a Systems Analyst do? "Briefly, we study a customer's present system—payroll, inventory control, billing or whatever—and convert it to a mechanized system using either conventional IBM business machines or IBM's high-speed electronic computers."

Tom works out of the IBM Baltimore Office with some of America's finest by Tom as "converting the flow of instructions and information into the most efficient operation for an IBM magnetic drum computer. Bellwood," Tom points out, "is the Inventory Control Center for all

A problem in inventory control

Quartermaster centers in the country. The new system will achieve balanced supply and demand of material throughout the entire U. S.—will save money for the Government—and relieve many men from the drudgery of details."

For the past six months, Tom has been working with the Statistical Services Division of Headquarters Air Research & Development Command. "We are designing and implementing a system to link eleven reporting centers to Headquarters by wire transmission," Tom reports. "Data transmitted to Headquarters by this system will be coordinated and then processed by an IBM 650 electronic computer."

Explaining IBM's 705 electronic computer

Why Tom chose IBM

How does a senior like Tom, who was interviewed by at least twenty companies while in college, select his future employer? "In my case," Tom says, "the choice was easy. IBM offered the best opportunities. I knew IBM sales were about doubling every five years—and when I considered the tremendous growth potential of the electronic computer field—I had no trouble making up my mind."

"Besides, I was impressed by the caliber of IBM personnel. They had a broader outlook and an approach to business which I can best describe as professional.

"My future? It looks good—very good. I've already received two generous raises in less than two years, and at the rate IBM and the electronic computer field are expanding, my future is both assured—and rewarding!"

IBM hopes this message will help to give you some idea of what it's like to be a Systems Analyst in the Data Processing Division. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, I.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians, Liberal Arts majors, and Business Administration graduates in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Sales Assistance. Why not drop in and discuss IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply our brochure and tell you when IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, our Manager of College Relations, P. H. Bradley, will be happy to answer your questions. Just write him at IBM, Room 11904, 590 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y.
